

ENLIGHTENED LIVING GROUPS

Live day-to-day life in love, bliss and peace

What does an “enlightened life” look like? Enlightenment is being in alignment with Source and fully present to the bliss of our own light. This blissful state is available to all of us and can be maintained through an on-going practice.

Sai Maa has created Sai Maa Enlightened Living Groups to support us in generating this blissful alignment with our own light in our daily lives and in our communities.

You will gain access to a life transformation that includes:

- Living day-to-day life as an expression of the lasting divine
- A continuing expansion of awareness and knowledge
- Being the contribution of soul and light to others
- Participating in a conversation that builds profound connection and community with others for more information, please visit sai-maa.com/community